opp wins that climate change doesn't exist and that its effects are minimal so we should prioritize over the economy.

Reason for Decision

Great job by all four debaters! This was a very close round with each side doing a great job beating back the other side's arguments. Overall, I felt that the gov side was better able to support its arguments with evidence, although the opp's argument that you need a strong economy to address public health was also persuasive.
